

23rd Annual BikurCholimConference

Scenes from the 22nd Annual Conference

Co-sponsored by
The Rabbi Isaac N. Trainin
Bikur Cholim
Coordinating Council/
Jewish Board of Family and Children's Services and UJA-Federation of New York

Join us on Sunday November 14, 2010
at UJA-Federation of New York, 130 East 59 Street

The Joyful Heart: Bikur Cholim Tools to Uplift the Spirit

An exciting and inspiring event with renowned keynote speakers

Rabbi Tsvi Blanchard, Ph.D.

The National Jewish Center for Learning and Leadership
Psychologist, teacher and rabbi. An expert in community and leadership development, he is a recognized leader in the Jewish healing movement.

David Jacobson, LCSW

Humor Horizons, Inc.
Author, winner of numerous honors and awards. Manager, Social Work Department, University Medical Center, Tucson, AZ

Rabbi Simcha Weinstein

Author of numerous books including "Up, Up, and Oy Vey!", one of North America's leading experts on Jewish popular culture and on spiritual and ritual renewal.

Enjoy humorous and enlightening speakers as they discuss the relationship between Jews and humor in coping with adversity; the role of humor and joy in healing and how these can be powerful tools in bikur cholim, for both the visitor and visatee's benefit. Choose from a broad selection of workshops teaching practical skills that will stimulate and inspire you.

Community members, both new and experienced visitors, students, teens and clergy are welcome. Network, brainstorm, have fun and gain the support of a larger community. Learn skills for life which you can put into practice immediately.

Come to the conference and see for yourself!

For Information: Email: bikurcholimcc@jbfcs.org

Visit: www.bikurcholimcc.org

Phone: 212.632.4730

Bikur Cholim is Hebrew for visiting the sick.